

Ex-Red Spy Says Russia Is Now In Throes Of Revolution

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former Soviet intelligence officer says the Russian leaders' denunciation of Stalin is a desperate attempt to retain their power. It indicates, he said, "the revolution has already begun."

Nikolai E. Khokhlov, who defected to the West in 1954 after 13 years in the Soviet intelligence service, gave that appraisal in an interview published today by the magazine U. S. News."

The 20th congress of the Soviet Communist party in February, he said, "openly and publicly confirmed that dictatorship cannot exist any longer in the Soviet Union. Without publicly saying so, it actually confessed the complete bankruptcy of the Soviet system."

Some of Stalin's actions and his system of one-man rule were openly criticized by some Soviet leaders at that congress. Reports reaching the West since then have said that Nikita Khrushchev, Communist party boss, himself denounced the former dictator as a murderer and a ruler who hurt Russia.

WESTERN leaders, attempting to assess the developments, have come up with varying ideas. The moves have been interpreted as a further effort of Khrushchev to seize power and alternatively as a possible means of keeping any one man from emerging as dictator. Some have contended the present Russian rulers dared denounce Stalin only after they felt secure in their present power.

Khrushchev discounted that idea, saying "if they were really strong, they could simply have reformed the government, started a new kind of regime and explained it all by saying that conditions had changed and so the government was changing. They would not have felt it necessary to go to all that trouble of blaming Stalin."

He said Khrushchev tried and failed to make himself a dictator like Stalin.

"Now," he added, "the members of the Soviet ruling clique are trying desperately to shift the blame for the intolerable conditions off their own shoulders."

But he contended dictatorship and Communist rule are on their way out, and that sooner or later, the people will rise up and free themselves.

"A revolution does not always consist of an armed uprising," he said. "Sometimes it begins with a growth of quiet resistance that causes a kind of government paralysis, a disintegration of the state system. And that is what is going on now in the Soviet Union."

Jaycee Speaking Contest Won By Hal Summers

Meeting Held Here Draws 90 Persons From 10-City Area

Nearly a hundred Jaycees and guests from ten cities in the area heard Hal Summers of Washington C. H. win a district speaking contest Saturday evening.

The district finals of the national "speak up, Jaycee" contest highlighted the dinner meeting, held at the Country Club.

Hal R. Summers

Present at the session were members and guests of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in West Carrollton, Fairborn, Lebanon, Yellow Springs, Germantown, Dayton, Miamisburg, Franklin, Xenia and the host city, Washington C. H.

Summers edged out two other winners of local contests in the district to earn the right to represent the district in the state speaking contest, to be held at the state Jaycee convention in Columbus May 5 and 6.

If he wins there, Summers will go on to the national contest in Kansas City next June.

EACH CONTESTANT delivered a five-minute talk on one of the six tenets of the Jaycee creed. Summers spoke on the section of the creed affirming "That the brotherhood of man transcends the sovereignty of nations."

Judges of the contest were Robert Cain of Findlay, the state president; Benjamin Hayes of Cincinnati, a national Jaycee director, and Gene Shook, chairman of the national convention.

The contest followed a buffet dinner served to some 45 couples.

Presiding over the business session were Thomas Spitzig of Dayton, the district vice president, and Robert Callison, president of the Washington C. H. Jaycees.

At the close of the session, the members and guests danced to the music of Dick Keillough's orchestra.

Officials of the State Hospital in Columbus are trying to locate relatives or friends of Miss Minnie Gillis, who died in that institution Saturday at the age of 93 years. She was a Negro.

She had been in the State Hospital, officials there said, since 1881; she was 18 years old when she entered. Through the years—almost a century—those of her family who knew her personally and her friends had died and later generations lost track of her and the hospital officials were unable to keep in touch with them regularly.

Miss Burton calling from the State Hospital office Monday morning explained that officials of the institution hoped to be able to locate some of her relatives and expressed the hope that anyone, relatives or friends, who knew anything of Miss Gillis' background would call the State Hospital, telephone Broad 1171.

Lausche Again Mentioned As Top Presidential Timber

(By The Associated Press)

Some Democrats casting about for alternates to the two active seekers of the party's presidential nomination are speculating about three governors—Frank J. Lausche of Ohio, Happy Chandler of Kentucky and Averell Harriman of New York.

The active candidates, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee and Adlai Stevenson, focused their attention on California's June 5 primary, their last direct clash. Kefauver is campaigning there; Stevenson plans to fly there later in the week to talk with campaign workers.

Republicans were generally quiet on political matters over the weekend, but GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall took on his Democratic counterpart Paul M. Butler in a sometimes noisy television debate.

When Butler asked whether the people can hope for successful guidance of foreign affairs if President Eisenhower delegates duties to others, Hall retorted that "the President has not asked that any powers be delegated to all."

Hall accused the Democrats in Congress of "stalling" on new farm legislation, and said this might cost farmers $1 billion this year.

Butler pointed to a big gain in the proportion of Democratic to Republican votes in last week's Minnesota primary, and said this indicated dissatisfaction with administration policies, including its farm program.

"Republicans weren't in the Minnesota primary," Hall replied. "We were on the sidewalk watching."

Since Kefauver upset Stevenson in Minnesota, there has been increased talk among some party members about other possible candidates.

Several have boomed Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, who says he is not a candidate. A weekend report from Chicago indicated that the Stevenson camp regards Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri as a dark horse contender of growing strength.

Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas declined to say yesterday whether he would back Johnson for the nomination. Asked to name persons he would support, Shivers mentioned only Lausche.

Sen. Allen Ellender (D-La.) said he welcomes reports that Chandler may seek the nomination. Chandler has not commented. "Happy is a mighty fine fellow," Ellender said, "and he certainly would be more acceptable to most Southern Democrats than either Kefauver or Harriman."

Harriman, arriving in West Palm Beach for a Florida vacation, said Saturday night that "New York political forces have decreed that I should be available" for the presidential nomination. He added he would not accept the vice presidential nomination.

This meeting was called by the Washington C. H. School Board to explain to these parents why it had been necessary for the board to close its doors to tuition students—nearly 230 of them are now attending Washington C. H. High School—after this year.

Both Kefauver and his campaign manager, F. Joseph Donohue, said they think Kefauver would be acceptable to the South. Kefauver said he doesn't think his stand on racial integration will hurt him in the South.

In Pensacola, Fla., about 100 Negroes attacked and beat two white men after a Negro was shot, and in Atlanta five Negroes escaped injury when an explosion damaged a home in the northwest section into which they moved last Friday.

The Pensacola incident developed in a predominantly Negro section while two Pensacola white men, Johnnie J. Maloy, 50, and Hillary Calhoun, 41, were selling oranges from a truck.

Sheriff's deputies said Maloy accused a Negro of stealing a crate of oranges, drew gun and fired twice. A bullet struck Foster King, a 34-year-old Negro, in the leg.

Deputies said Love Andrews, 29-year-old Negro, took the gun away from Maloy and then other Negroes swarmed over both men.

MALOY SUFFERED a brain concussion and a compound fracture of the leg. Andrews was held without trial on a charge of affray. Calhoun was arrested on the same charge, but later freed under $100 bond.

The Atlanta explosion occurred in a predominantly white section where some homes have been sold to Negroes. A similar blast was reported there Feb. 25.

Police did not determine what caused the blast which shattered part of the foundation of the frame structure and tore a hole in the living room floor.

A white neighbor whose home suffered minor damage told police three Negro adults and two children moved out of the house with their belongings about five hours after the explosion.

In Washington, Sen. Stennis (D-Miss.) said one purpose of a manifesto signed by 101 Southern senators and House members was to alert all sections of the nation to what he called Southern determination to win a legal reversal of the Supreme Court decrees outlawing segregation in the schools.

"People in other sections of the nation think we are bluffing about this," he said. "We are not."

Several Arrested During Weekend

One man arrested over the weekend was charged with driving while drunk, and a few others face minor traffic law violations.

Robert Taylor, 21, Route 3, is the driver picked up and listed for driving while drunk.

Charles Payton was arrested on a drunk and disorderly charge, and Wilbert Jones of Xenia, for running a red light.

Three plain drunks also were arrested by the police during the weekend.

New Farm Bill Being Studied By Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate-House conference committee takes over today the task of rewriting the election year farm bill.

Subject to later approval by both the Senate and the House, the five senators and five representatives will decide between rigid and flexible price supports, means of determining parity prices, provision of the soil bank plan and other regulations governing farmers' actions this year.

Sen. Ellender (D-La.), chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee and head of the Senate conferees, still talked hopefully of an agreement before Congress begins a 10-day Easter recess Thursday. Major differences between the two houses followed a budget dinner served to some 45 couples.

The Senate bill includes provisions for a new $1.2 billion soil bank plan, $500 million additional funds for price support buying of perishable farm products, new "domestic parity" plans for wheat and rice, and a variety of other proposals. None of these has been formally considered by the House.

By contrast the House version is simple. It calls for restoration of mandatory 90 per cent of parity supports on wheat, corn, cotton, rice and peanuts and an increase in the minimum level of dairy farm supports from 75 to 80 per cent of parity.

Weekend Highway Death Toll Climbs

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio's weekend highway death toll rose sharply from previous weekend.

Door Not Locked To High School They Are Told

Explanation Given By City Board For Closing Door

A movement to annex to the Washington C. H. School district all the areas in the county from which students now attend the Washington C. H. High School today was gathering momentum.

An organization, known as the Interested Parents Association, is taking form under the guidance of a 30-member central committee. It is expected to be enlarged by the state Department of Education.

Both of these—the movement and the committee—came into being Saturday night at a meeting of parents of Washington C. H. High School students and other residents of the area involved.

This meeting was called by the Washington C. H. School Board to explain to these parents why it had been necessary for the board to close its doors to tuition students—nearly 230 of them are now attending Washington C. H. High School—after this year.

It was made plain in the letter of invitation that the board merely wanted to explain why it was necessary for it to take this action.

While the invitations went primarily to the parents of the tuition pupils, there were a few at the Saturday night meeting who did not have children in the school here. Several members of the Miami Trace Board were there.

These and several other meetings listed by Terhune were described as background which led up to the Miami Trace Board's suggestion that the city board meet with it to transfer a belt of territory around Washington C. H.

Then he asked, "would the city be willing to join in a county-wide high school?"

Terhune replied that "based on a study of enrollment, debt, physical condition of the buildings and administration plans, we would go along." Then he added with emphasis: "But never under the present county administration."

Dews came right back with: "I believe the voters would approve a county-wide high school today, but never under the present county administration."

Joe White commented that one room is not now in use at the Chaffin School and asked if there would be time to work this out.

It was recalled here that transfer by petition is possible only in January of even numbered years, but that the county board could transfer territory any time. The city board would then have to accept the transfer to complete the deal.

The petition, filed Jan. 31, by a group of rural residents, was referred to with the comment that this might still be valid. However, it was pointed out that a court of law would have to make the decision since the County board had ruled it inadequate.

F. Scott Zimmerman, a graduate of Jeffersonville High School, said he thought one high school would be most beneficial and suggested that "this group should organize and try to convince the county board of this." When he declared: "I don't think there is need for two high schools in this county," there was an outburst of applause.

Mrs. Emerson Marting insisted that more than Union Township be considered for the territory transfer and asked "What can we do?"

Loring Duff, a WHS graduate, suggested that the bigger the school the broader the curriculum possible.

Soon after Zimmerman asked: "Do you know of any city of 22,000 in which there are two high schools?" and received a negative reply, then Terhune said the city board considered its explanation ended.

Then the parents started a two-hour meeting which resulted in the Interested Parents Association.

Sunday, several members of the Miami Trace Board discussed the entire school program in an informal discussion.

"It was not a meeting," stressed Board Member Herbert Perrill. "We were together discussing a number of things—not especially the meeting Saturday night, though that did come up."

The board's next formal meeting is scheduled for Tuesday at 8 P. M., announced Supt. W. W. Boyer of the Miami Trace schools. The session Tuesday will be a continuation of the adjourned meeting held Wednesday.

At that session, more than a score of residents of the Miami Trace district turned up to discuss school problems with the board.

Regular business was not transacted at that meeting, making the continuation necessary.

Second Of Famous Sisters Is Dead

Death has claimed another member of the former famous Smith sisters of Fayette County, who were widely known for their singing.

Mrs. Marguerite Alkire Smith died Friday at the age of 87 years at the home the sisters shared at 1255 Fair Avenue, Columbus.

She was the second of the sextet of concert singers known in 1902 as the Ariel Ladies Sextet to pass away.

The sisters were born in Fayette County and when they grew up they formed the sextet and traveled in every state in the union, giving upward of 1700 concerts.

They were honored by singing at the inauguration of President William McKinley, who had used the sisters during his campaign.

Jeanette was the first member of the sextet to die, in 1952.

The four remaining sisters are: Mrs. Emma Mason, Mrs. Grace McKinney, Mrs. Gertrude Saint and Miss Olive Smith, all of Columbus.

Private funeral services were held Monday at 11 A. M. and interment made in Yellow Springs Cemetery.

Mrs. Bailey Dies At Home In City

Mrs. Lillian Mae Carter Bailey, 87, died at 5 A. M. Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alice Helene Beatty of 732 Columbus Avenue, where she had made her home for the past 18 years.

She had been in failing health for 10 years.

A native of Indianapolis, Ind., she came here from Richmond, Ind., in 1938. She was a life member of the Bethel AME Church in Richmond, a member of the Rodger's Chapel AME Church here and past worthy matron of the Adah Chapter of the Eastern Star in Richmond.

In addition to her daughter, Mrs. Beatty, she is survived by two sons, Carlos of Washington C. H. and Robert Glenn of Columbus; a grandson, John E. Card of Cincinnati; two granddaughters, three nephews and two nieces.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Joseph Bailey, and by two daughters and a son.

Funeral services will be held at 2 P. M. Wednesday in the Rodgers Chapel Church. Burial will be in the family lot in the Washington C. H. Cemetery, under the direction of the Hook and Son Funeral Home.

Friends may call at the home of Mrs. Beatty, 732 Columbus Avenue, after 7 P. M. Monday.

Harley T. Hamilton Dies At Home Here

Harley T. Hamilton, 75, died at 4:30 P. M. Saturday at his home, 512 Eastern Avenue. He had been in failing health for the past two years.

Second Of Famous Sisters Is Dead

Death has claimed another member of the former famous Smith sisters of Fayette County, who were widely known for their singing.

Mrs. Marguerite Akire Smith died Friday at the age of 87 years at the home the sisters shared at 1255 Fair Avenue, Columbus.

She was the second of the sextet of concert singers known in 1902 as the Ariel Ladies Sextet to pass away.

The sisters were born in Fayette County and when they grew up they formed the sextet and traveled in every state in the union, giving up to 1700 concerts.

They were honored by singing at the inauguration of President William McKinley, who had used the singers during his campaign.

Jeanette was the first member of the sextet to die, in 1952.

The four remaining sisters are: Mrs. Emma Mason, Mrs. Grace McKinsey, Mrs. Gertrude Saint and Miss Olive Smith, all of Columbus.

Private funeral services were held Monday at 11 A. M. and interment made in Yellow Springs Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bellar,

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

the back of your mind. In any case, it is evident that you are all mixed-up, as the saying goes; and there is more to the problem than you realize. To unravel the confusion and get yourself on the right track, you need to talk things through, unreservedly, with a specialist counsellor. The college dean might help you find the right person, if the faculty doesn't afford such services to students.

M. H. DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I have a problem that lately has been causing me undue worry. I have been going steady with Joan since the beginning of our sophomore year in high school. We enrolled in the same college and are now nearing the end of our second year here.

During all this time I have never dated another girl, nor has Joan gone out with another fellow. Up to the time we met, I had been a shy reserved individual, and never had much to do with girls.

Joan and I have grown to love each other and are thinking of marriage upon graduation. Yet there are times when I question my love for Joan. I have speculative thoughts of taking out another girl to test my real feelings. These ideas occur only when she isn't around.

Most of my married friends say that it would be only fair to us both if I were to date another girl. Most of them did a lot of dating before they settled down and married. I would like to be happily married some day to my steady girl friend, too; but I won't want to think I have missed something when I do eventually marry her.

I don't want to cheat on Joan, as I never have; yet, I could never succeed in convincing her that my feelings make sense—and that I should date others, as I sometimes think. It is a problem of great concern to me; and I would deeply appreciate your help.

C. J. DEAR C. J.: You do have a problem, and it should be cleared up, before you marry Joan—or anyone. As I get the present picture, you are too dependent upon Joan—in a complex of immature ways—to be honest with her. It is as you say: you are afraid of losing her, if you were to divulge your girl-conscious thoughts to her; or date other girls without her blessing.

If you haven't the courage to call your soul your own, in what should be a freely elected relationship with Joan (as the one and only), then of course you cannot be a good husband to her.

Perhaps you feel guilty inhibited, as regards your sex drive, and don't admit it to yourself, much less to Joan or your campus confidantes. If so, no doubt you take for granted that Joan herself is above the sort of thing that haunts you.

Police said Gilmore admitted firing the shot.

Detective Sid Hoyt said the two boys had put two cartridges in an old five-cylinder revolver belonging to Mrs. Slafcoff's deceased husband. They spun the cylinder, pointed the gun toward each other and pulled the trigger, Hoyt said.

Gilmore told Hoyt they were not aiming directly at each other, just "close to each other."

Submarine Life May Be Told By TV

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Television promises to open the ocean depths for science, a speaker at an international meeting on marine biology said today.

Dr. Harold Barnes of the marine biological station, Millport, Isle of Cumbrae, Scotland, told scientists from 17 nations that television cameras lowered into the ocean could give a continuing motion picture of submarine life.

Non-pictorial use, he said, could be in such studies as making counts of plankton—the minute organisms that form dense populations over wide areas and furnish the food base for other sea life.

Farm Wife Nears Goal: 13 Babies

POTEAU, Okla. (AP)—A 44-year-old Cartesville farmer's wife is nearing her goal of 13 children—the same as her mother had.

Mrs. Otis Self gave birth to her 12th child, Sharon Kay, last week. The mother, who was 15 years old when her first child was born, has three other girls and eight boys ranging in age from 3 to 29.

The Oklahoma farm wife said she is "just living like the Bible says and replenishing the earth."

Old Cavalry Chief Dies At Age of 79

CAPE ELIZABETH, Maine (AP)—Col. Frederick E. Gignoux, 79, credited with having led the last U.S. cavalry charge against enemy troops, is dead.

Gignoux headed a charge of cavalry that turned the tide of battle at San Mateo in the Philippines Dec. 19, 1899. He joined the Army in 1888 and fought in four battles and 30 skirmishes during the Spanish-American war.

Mapmakers Fear Big Headache Ahead

WASHINGTON (AP)—What the anti-Stalin movement in Russia may do to the world's mapmakers shouldn't happen to a Bolshevik, the National Geographic Society says.

If Soviet leaders decide to rename all cities, mountains and other things named for Stalin, mapmakers will have a big job of revision. There are 62 places named Stalinski, not to speak of Stalino, Stalinabaski, Stalingradski, etc.

Income Tax Must Soon Be Filed

Prepare And File Now Is Advocated

"Less than a month remains to prepare your individual Federal income tax return and pay any taxes due," Arthur Cochran Administrative Officer of the Wilmington office of the Internal Revenue Service, said today.

Cochran urged taxpayers to get to work at once on preparing their 1955 returns. As time passes, he pointed out, it becomes increasingly difficult to collect all essential financial records of last year received bills, cancelled checks, and other papers which enable the taxpayer to prepare the most accurate type of return.

In addition, the longer the taxpayer waits the more pressing becomes the obligation, and some essential entries may be overlooked or incorrectly entered.

Telephone assistance is available by calling Wilmington 2348 but it will be more difficult to obtain it as the filing deadline nears because of the last minute rush by tardy taxpayers, Cochran cautioned. The filing deadline is Monday, April 16, 1956.

Health For All

TOO MUCH MEDICINE

"I don't take any medicine," the man told his doctor. But . . . he was taking a pill to pep himself up in the morning, another to reduce his weight, an assorted group of vitamin and mineral pills and capsules, antihistaminic for the sniffles, drops to soothe his nose, a drug to quiet the jitters, another to fight heartburn, laxative, and a sleeping potion.

None of these things were "medicine" to him — just little things he thought he needed to get through the day. No doctor had advised him to take all that stuff. As a matter of fact, he went to see the doctor because he was suffering unexplained stomach cramps.

Too many people take too much medicine or too many kinds of medicine. Some get themselves into serious trouble by continuing to take a medicine prescribed by the doctor long after it has done its work and the need is past. Others go to three or four physicians, getting from each a prescription for a different symptom. Many go on taking a drug after it starts to produce symptoms which, to a doctor, would indicate a sensitivity to the medicine.

The wisest procedure is to stick to the advice of the family doctor. When you see him for your regular checkup, he should know what medicines, laxatives, and diet supplements you have been taking. Perhaps he will tell you you don't need all those vitamin pills. The laxative habit can be dangerous. Perhaps the symptoms you are suffering yourself indicate some serious trouble which he alone should diagnose.

Many of us are apt to prescribe for ourselves when it comes to cold remedies, vitamins and laxatives. It's a good idea to ask the doctor's opinion first. He's the man who knows whether a commercial preparation you can buy from the drugstore will do you any good — or whether it might do you real harm.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I have a problem that lately has been causing me undue worry. I have been going steady with Joan since the beginning of our sophomore year in high school. We enrolled in the same college and are now nearing the end of our second year here.

During all this time I have never dated another girl, nor has Joan gone out with another fellow. Up to the time we met, I had been a shy reserved individual, and never had much to do with girls.

Joan and I have grown to love each other and are thinking of marriage upon graduation. Yet there are times when I question my love for Joan. I have speculative thoughts of taking out another girl to test my real feelings. These ideas occur only when she isn't around.

Most of my married friends say that it would be only fair to us both if I were to date another girl. Most of them did a lot of dating before they settled down and married. I would like to be happy married some day to my steady girl friend, too; but I won't want to think I have missed something when I do eventually marry her.

I don't want to cheat on Joan, as I never have; yet, I could never succeed in convincing her that my feelings make sense—and that I should date others, as I sometimes think. It is a problem of great concern to me; and I would deeply appreciate your help.

C. J.

DEAR C. J.: You do have a problem, and it should be cleared up, before you marry Joan—or anyone. As I get the present picture, you are too dependent upon Joan—in a complex of immature ways—to be honest with her. It is as you say: you are afraid of losing her, if you were to divulge your girl-conscious thoughts to her; or date other girls without her blessing.

If you haven't the courage to call your soul your own, in what should be a freely elected relationship with Joan (as the one and only), then, of course you cannot be a good husband to her.

Perhaps you feel guilty inhibited, as regards your sex drive, and don't admit it to yourself, much less to Joan or your campus confidantes. If so, no doubt you take for granted that Joan herself is above the sort of thing that haunts

POTEAU, Okla. (AP)—A 44-year-old Cartesville farmer's wife is nearing her goal of 13 children—the same as her mother had.

Mrs. Otis Self gave birth to her 12th child, Sharon Kay, last week. The mother, who was 15 years old when her first child was born, has three other girls and eight boys ranging in age from 3 to 29.

The Oklahoma farm wife said she is "just living like the Bible says and replenishing the earth."

Old Cavalry Chief Dies At Age of 79

CAPE ELIZABETH, Maine (AP)—Col. Frederick E. Gignoux, 79, credited with having led the last U. S. cavalry charge against enemy troops, is dead.

Gignoux headed a charge of cavalry that turned the tide of battle at San Mateo in the Philippines Dec. 19, 1899. He joined the Army in 1898 and fought in four battles and 30 skirmishes during the Spanish-American war.

Mapmakers Fear Big Headache Ahead

Income Tax Must Soon Be Filed

Prepare And File Now Is Advocated

"Less than a month remains to prepare your individual Federal income tax return and pay any taxes due," Arthur Cochran, Administrative Officer of the Wilmington office of the Internal Revenue Service, said today.

Cochran urged taxpayers to get to work at once on preparing their 1955 returns. As time passes, he pointed out, it becomes increasingly difficult to collect all essential financial records of last year received bills, cancelled checks, and other papers which enable the taxpayer to prepare the most accurate type of return.

In addition, the longer the taxpayer waits the more pressing becomes the obligation, and some essential entries may be overlooked or incorrectly entered.

Telephone assistance is available by calling Wilmington 2348 but it will be more difficult to obtain as the filing deadline nears because of the last minute rush by tardy taxpayers, Cochran cautioned. The filing deadline is Monday, April 16, 1956.

Submarine Life May Be Told By TV

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Television promises to open the ocean depths for science, a speaker at an international meeting on marine biology said today.

Dr. Harold Barnes of the marine biological station, Millport, Isle of Cumbrae, Scotland, told scientists from 17 nations that television cameras lowered into the ocean could give a continuing motion picture of submarine life.

Non-pictorial use, he said, could be in such studies as making counts of plankton—the minute organisms that form dense populations over wide areas and furnish the food base for other sea life.

We Have Many "Do-It-Yourself" Devotes Here

A Washington C. H. young business man, who seems to do a lot of getting around over this city and county to note how other people are meeting their desires and aspirations, told us a few days ago that he had become astounded to learn how many people of this locality had become enthusiastic devotees of the "do-it-yourself" idea of getting what they want.

A drive over Fayette County will surprise most people over the numerous families building their own homes.

Presumably this thing is happening on a big scale over the country and it is another amazing manifestation of the resourcefulness of the American people.

This movement has been growing steadily since World War II and in the last few years is reported to have been sweeping clear across the nation like prairie fire.

At its beginning it had all the earmarks of being just another fad. Now it appears to have become a definite asset and a healthy part of the American economy.

In attempting to account for the rapid expansion of this "do-it-yourself" phenomenon, the economists attribute it partly to the 5-day work week, with its shorter hours per day; more paid holidays and vacations for workers; and unemployment compensation. These things combined have provided extra time for Joe Doakes to devote to home projects.

To give some idea of just how this "do-it-yourself" has become big business, one that is not subject to investigation and attack by the Justice Department, the American people are spending $7 billion a year for materials and equipment. Amateur house painters burning with the "do-it-yourself" fever are buying about 75 percent of the nation's production of interior paint. They are purchasing 42 percent of all plywood, 50 percent of all floor tile and 60 percent of all wallpaper.

Needless to say there has been many a bruised thumb as a hammer failed to hit the nail and literally oceans of paint have been daubed on objects not intended by the amateur painter on "his own." Few have attained professional skill in this "do-it-yourself" process, but the over-all result has definitely been on the plus side.

In this age of automation, it is giving millions of Americans an opportunity to demonstrate their resourcefulness.

One of the things that has been of grave concern to industrial management has been the fear that with the greatly shortened work week, workers would find more time to get into trouble—a throw-back to the old adage that "Satan finds mischief for idle hands to do." But the "do-it-yourself" movement has helped materially to solve this problem. Men working on home projects are far removed from idle temptations.

Most people will agree that the "do-it-yourself" movement is worth-while. Many a person, man, woman or the "teenager," by getting interested in the idea, will learn self-help and the value of ambition that can become a constructive force in life.

part of Murrow's planned interview.

No word from Byrd's secretary budged the maid, Murrow said. They were not immediately able to get in touch with the admiral, who makes his headquarters in Washington.

"We were a little uneasy," he said.

Fortunately, Murrow said, this program has always been a somewhat informal, ad-libbing proposition. He keeps it that way, he said, in order to get naturalness and spontaneity.

"We don't rehearse specific questions and answers before we go on the air," he said. "We talk, generally, about what we're going to say. Then, after we start, I just follow wherever they lead."

The program largely depends on some special equipment—a tiny microphone and two "power packs," about the size of packages of cigarettes. The interviewee carries these as he walks around his home.

An Irish Maid, An Obstacle

NEW YORK (AP)—Edward R. Murrow interviewed Adm. Richard Byrd on television the other night and kept his fingers crossed that everything would go according to plan.

Some special complications developed in advance of the program.

Murrow is no stranger to problems and last-minute emergencies on his show. But he said the talk with the admiral may have set a record. Here's what happened:

Byrd, who lives in Boston, left last November to go to the Antarctic. He hadn't been in his house since then, Murrow said.

"He also ordered an elevator installed in it," Murrow added. "So far so good."

An essential part of the program is to bring the cameras into the home of the person being interviewed. He walks from room to room. The technical problems of placing cameras are often intricate.

So Murrow said that when Byrd consented to the interview, a camera crew was sent, as usual, to examine the house and make preliminary plans. A technician immediately telephoned:

"Ed, this place is a ghost house."

He explained that, because of the new elevator, painters and plasterers were all over the place, and that the furniture was completely covered with dust robes—and nobody knew when the house could be put back to normal.

Murrow and some more assistants went to Boston.

There, he said, they encountered another complication in the person of a determined Irish maid.

"She wouldn't let us in two locked rooms," he said. "We were virtually certain the equipment and many of the things pertaining to the geophysical year were in those rooms."

Byrd went to the South Pole heading an expedition gathering data for the geophysical year. This story, naturally, was a major part of Murrow's planned interview.

Plea For Freedom For Atheists

In "The Cornell Daily Sun," a newspaper published at Cornell University, I came across a letter to the editor written by cowards who withheld their names. A person of conviction does not write anonymous letters. The letter is a plea to all—a "vigorous atheism" to flourish in this country."

To me, it is a curious document and I read it several times because I wondered what its authors were batting about. No one goes to jail for being an atheist. It seems that what is troubling those who signed themselves "Names Withheld," is a very practical matter. I shall put it in their own words:

"The atheist is in a rather queer position. 'Testimony under oath,' 'oaths of office,' 'the Pledge of Allegiance,' etc. witness this fact. More than this, atheists still face being labelled 'communists' if their belief is articulated. What is of more concern now than the examples just mentioned is the promulgation of atheistic religiosity that is emanating from Washington. The invocation of the heavenly powers which precedes cabinet meetings and the continual references to America as a God-fearing country all with the implication that a good American must be a theist. It seems that whereas the atheist is, we are sure, disquieting to a large number of our citizens. For while we are guaranteed freedom of religious worship, we are not guaranteed freedom from religion."

These boys, or they may be girls, or faculty members, are undoubtedly concerned about the oaths that have to be taken in the course of our existence and which may involve perjury. Of course, they have a way out; they can affirm rather than take an oath and I notice that whereas all oaths used to be taken with a hand on a Bible, many are now taken with a hand sticking up in the air.

But it is still an oath to God and if the person, at the moment of taking that oath, has rejected God, his oath is to nothing and is ipso facto a perjury as some judges may decide. This can cause considerable trouble at some time. So I take it that whoever wrote this letter up in Cornell wants all oaths abolished and the Pledge of Allegiance abolished and they object to cabinet meetings being opened with prayer, which undoubtedly has done the cabinet much good because such meetings are not now opened with the latest dirty story or a bit of raucous gossip which is so usual when grown, hearty men get together.

Furthermore, these atheists do not wish to be labelled as communists, but they really should not complain. Lenin established atheism as a state religion. The atheists undoubtedly must find comfort in the successes of the Soviet State which is based on a rejection of a mystical deity and the assurance that man is a product of his environment and that the environment, in relationship to historic time, determines morals and ethics among men. Surely, if God is rejected as the Creator, as the Divine Intelligence, then Karl Marx must have been right and why do these Cornell students refuse to join in adoring him and Lenin as the most successful advocates of atheism? If they are not communists, they should be or they can be accused of inconsistency.

There is another paragraph in this letter that might be quoted:

"The establishment of religion is as much a threat to individual liberty as the establishment of a particular religion. The promulgation of religion by private religious organizations cannot be objected to, but government aid in this field is intolerable."

These persons are at a distinguished university and presumably have had some courses in American history. If not, why not? At any rate, they ought to know by now that most of the American colonies were populated by religious, God-fearing people, who came here to live with God according to their beliefs. Therefore, worship of God, dependence upon God's guidance, prayer to God, are characteristics of American life since the early decades of the Seventeenth Century. So deeply imbedded is this concept that the individualism which is normal among our people and which is expressed in such state documents as the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution is a direct product of the theistic thinking to which they object. If they have not learned that at Cornell, what have they learned about the United States at that university?

Nickel Plate Rail Strike Postponed

CLEVELAND (AP)—A government recommendation for postponement of a strike set for Monday against the Nickel Plate Railroad has been accepted by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

Postponement of the strike pending mediation was announced by S. C. Phillips, assistant president of the brotherhood, after the National Railway Mediation Board assumed jurisdiction. The strike had been planned in a dispute over rules changes.

Rat Poison Blamed In Death Of Tots

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—Two young children died Sunday after apparently eating rat poison they found while rummaging through a kitchen cupboard in their home.

Coroner Loren Bates ordered an autopsy to fix the exact cause of death of Daniel Robb, 5, and his sister Judy, 3, children of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Robb.

Police said the youngsters found the poison while their parents were sleeping.

Popular Song Lyrist Is Dead

YONKERS, N. Y. (AP)—Mort Dixon, 64, lyrist of many popular songs, died.

Police said two empty bottles, one of which had contained sleeping pills and the other a liquid sedative, were beside his bed.

Dixon wrote the words for such songs as "The Lady In Red," "That Old Gang Of Mine," "Marching Along Together," "Bye Bye Blackbird," and "I'm Looking Over a Four-Leaf Clover."

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Now that we have an antipolio vaccine, fear and tension present one of our foremost obstacles in combating this disease.

When polio strikes you or a member of your family, you get worried. That's perfectly natural. But it's something we doctors have to combat to aid recovery.

Nervous Fears

Just mention the word polio and most people immediately envision wheel chairs and crutches. Both the patient and his family become nervous and fear the disease will leave him a cripple.

Actually, most victims recover completely from a bout with polio. Worry about the condition, however, will only aggravate it.

Anxiety and tension tend to increase the severity of the disease and to extend the period of illness. They serve to tense the muscles which must be relaxed for better recovery.

Tranquillizing Agents

In many cases we can prescribe tranquilizing agents to relax the patient without interfering with his mental alertness.

Not only are such drugs prescribed for the patient, but for other members of the household as well. This helps to produce a relaxed and unworried atmosphere.

One of the things that has been of grave concern to industrial management has been the fear that with the greatly shortened work week, workers would find more time to get into trouble—a throw-back to the old adage that "Satan finds mischief for idle hands to do." But the "do-it-yourself" movement has helped materially to solve this problem. Men working on home projects are far removed from idle temptations.

Most people will agree that the "do-it-yourself" movement is worth while. Many a person, man, woman or the "teenager," by getting interested in the idea, will learn self-help and the value of ambition that can become a constructive force in life.

Not even word from Byrd's secretary budged the maid, Murrow said. They were not immediately able to get in touch with the admiral, who makes his headquarters in Washington.

He explained that, because of the new elevator, painters and plasterers were all over the place, and that the furniture was completely covered with dust—nobody knew when the house could be put back to normal.

Murrow and some more assistants went to Boston.

There, he said, they encountered another complication in the person of a determined Irish maid.

An Irish Maid, An Obstacle

NEW YORK (AP)—Edward R. Murrow interviewed Adm. Richard Byrd on television the other night and kept his fingers crossed that everything would go according to plan.

Some special complications developed in advance of the program.

Murrow is no stranger to problems and last-minute emergencies on his show. But he said the talk with the admiral may have set a record. Here's what happened:

Byrd, who lives in Boston, left last November to go to the Antarctic. He hadn't been in his house since then, Murrow said. "He also ordered an elevator installed in it," Murrow added. "So far so good."

An essential part of the program is to bring the cameras into the home of the person being interviewed. He walks from room to room. The technical problems of placing cameras are often intricate.

So Murrow said that when Byrd consented to the interview,

Plea For Freedom For Atheists

In "The Cornell Daily Sun," a newspaper published at Cornell University, I came across a letter to the editor written by cowards who withheld their names. A person of conviction does not write anonymous letters. The letter is a plea to allow a "vigorous atheism to flourish in this country."

To me, it is a curious document and I read it several times because I wondered what its authors were bating about. No one goes to jail for being an atheist. It seems that what is troubling those who signed themselves "Names Withheld," is a very practical matter. I shall put it in their own words:

"The atheist is in a rather queer position. Testimony under oath, 'oaths of office,' the Pledge of Allegiance, etc. witness this fact. More than this, atheists still face being labelled 'communists' if their belief is articulated. What is of more concern now than the examples just mentioned is the promulgation of theistic religiosity that is emanating from Washington. The invocation of the heavenly powers which precedes cabinet meetings and the continual references to America as a God-fearing country all with the implication that a good American must be a atheist is, we are sure, disquieting to a large number of our citizens. For while we are guaranteed freedom of religious worship, we are not guaranteed freedom from religion."

These boys, or they may be girls, or faculty members, are undoubtedly concerned about the oaths that have to be taken in the course of our existence and which may involve perjury. Of course, they have a way out; they can affirm rather than take an oath and I notice that whereas all oaths used to be taken with a hand on a Bible, many are now taken with a hand sticking up in the air.

But it is still an oath to God and if the person, at the moment of taking that oath, has rejected God, his oath is to nothing and is ipso facto a perjury as some judges may decide. This can cause considerable trouble at some time. So I take it that whoever wrote this letter up in Cornell wants all oaths abolished and the Pledge of Allegiance abolished and they object to cabinet meetings being opened with prayer, which undoubtedly has done the cabinet much good because such meetings are not now opened with the latest dirty story or a bit of raucous gossip which is so usual when grown, hearty men get together.

Furthermore, these atheists do not wish to be labelled as communists, but they really should not complain. Lenin established atheism as a state religion. The atheists undoubtedly must find comfort in the successes of the Soviet State which is based on a rejection of a mystical deity and the assurance that man is a product of his environment and that the environment, in relationship to historic time, determines morals and ethics among men. Surely, if God is rejected as the Creator, as the Divine Intelligence, then Karl Marx must have been right and why do these Cornell students refuse to join in adoring him and Lenin as the most successful advocates of atheism? If they are not communists, they should be called "atheists" in their own words:

The atheist is in a rather queer position. Testimony under oath, 'oaths of office,' the Pledge of Allegiance, etc. witness this fact. More than this, atheists still face being labelled 'communists' if their belief is articulated. What is of more concern now than the examples just mentioned is the promulgation of theistic religiosity that is emanating from Washington. The invocation of the heavenly powers which precedes cabinet meetings and the continual references to America as a God-fearing country all with the implication that a good American must be an atheist. It seems that what is troubling those who signed themselves "Names Withheld," is a very practical matter. I shall put it in their own words:

"The establishment of religion is as much a threat to individual liberty as the establishment of a particular religion. The promulgation of religion by private religious organizations cannot be objected to, but government aid in this field is intolerable."

These persons are at a distinguished university and presumably have had some courses in American history. If not, why not? At any rate, they ought to know by now that most of the American colonies were populated by religious, God-fearing people, who came here to live with God according to their beliefs. Therefore, worship of God, dependence upon God's guidance, prayer to God, are characteristics of American life since the early decades of the Seventeenth Century. So deeply imbedded in the American psyche is the belief in God that it is difficult to imagine anyone not believing in God.

YONKERS, N. Y. (AP)—Mort Dixon, 64, lyrst of many popular songs, is dead.

Police said two empty bottles, one of which had contained sleeping pills and the other a liquid sedative, were beside his bed.

Dixon wrote the words for such songs as "The Lady In Red," "That Old Gang of Mine," "Marching Along Together," "Bye Bye Blackbird," and "I'm Looking Over a Four-Leaf Clover."

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Now that we have an antipolio vaccine, fear and tension present one of our foremost obstacles in combating this disease.

When polio strikes you or a member of your family, you get worried. That's perfectly natural. But it's something we doctors have to combat to aid recovery.

Nervous Fears

Just mention the word polio and most people immediately envision wheel chairs and crutches. Both the patient and his family become nervous and fear the disease will leave him a cripple.

Actually, most victims recover completely from a bout with polio. Worry about the condition, however, will only aggravate it.

Anxiety and tension tend to increase the severity of the disease and to extend the period of illness. They serve to tense the muscles which must be relaxed for better recovery.

Tranquillizing Agents

In many cases we can prescribe tranquilizing agents to relax the patient without interfering with his mental alertness.

Not only are such drugs prescribed for the patient, but for other members of the household as well. This helps to produce a relaxed and unworried atmosphere.

The program largely depends on some special equipment—a tiny microphone and two "power packs," about the size of packages of cigarettes. The interviewee carries these as he walks around his home.

"Birthday" of The Great Seal Of This State

Many Expected To Visit Worthington Home At Adena

As Ohio celebrates, this week, the 153rd "birthday" of the Great Seal of Ohio, Secretary of State, Ted W. Brown, urged the thousands who will visit Adena, the home of Thomas Worthington, near Chillicothe, to view the scene which inspired William Creighton, Ohio's first Secretary of State, to design the seal.

It was on a morning soon after Ohio began functioning as a state in 1803, that Creighton, Ohio's first Governor Edwin Tiffin and the then U. S. Senator and later Governor, Thomas Worthington and others stood on the lawn of the Worthington home after a night-long discussion of matters vital to the new state. The sun rose slowly behind the Mount Logan range and with admiration, Creighton exclaimed: "The rising sun of a new state", making then and there the suggestion that the scene become the basis for a state seal.

On March 25, 1803, a law authorizing a seal was adopted by the Legislature in session in Chillicothe, Ohio's first capital. It prescribed a device very similar to the State Seal of today: "On the right side near the bottom a sheaf of wheat, and on the left side a bundle of 17 arrows; in the background and rising above the sheaf and bundle of arrows, a mountain over which shall appear a rising sun, the state seal to be surrounded by these words: 'The Great Seal of the State of Ohio'."

The meeting place of the Ohio statesmen was at Belle View, situated where Adena, a beautiful new mansion, now restored by the Ohio State Historical Society, was erected by Worthington in 1806-7, replacing the log structure.

Many liberties were taken with the original sketch made by Secretary of State Creighton, according to "Ohio Capitals" a booklet published by Secretary of State Brown for distribution principally among the schools.

He has on file in his office designs of the seal of the Northwest Territory, the first Seal of Ohio and the present seal of Ohio, along with a seal that was in use about 1860 showing a canal boat or river boat (described in some accounts as a broadhorn) plying the waters between the mountains and the sun and the shocks of wheat, with the arrow sheaf in relief in the sky above the whole scene. Another drawing shows a seal used in 1866, which took other liberties with the original idea but not nearly as

Hat-Check Girl Is Cinderella Success In Movie Capital

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — From hat check chick to star — that's the Cinderella story of sexy-voiced Virginia Leith.

Virginia is now playing opposite every girl's dreamboat, William Holden, in "Toward the Unknown." He's her boss, too, since the film is being made for Holden's Tolucci productions. He terms her "a remarkable talent" and tried to sign her for a picture a year. But her studio told him no sale; it has its own plans for the doll.

She is shapely, brown-haired, moody and sultry-voiced. She has always talked in low tones, she says. After 10 months of vocal training at the studio, she could almost make Lauren Bacall sound like a soprano.

Virginia's advent to stardom is a curious chain of circumstances. She grew up in Cleveland with little thought of becoming an actress. As a matter of fact she wanted to write and even took a semester of journalism at Columbia University.

"I flunked out," she confessed. "I even barely got through high school. I had one of the highest I.Q.'s in school, but got some of the lowest grades. I was always daydreaming."

She came to California, but with no intention of trying to act. Her explanation: "I liked warm weather, but I didn't like Florida. So I came here."

Her first job was checking hats in a Beverly Hills restaurant. She took it because she got free meals and the tips gave her enough to live on. Then she landed a job as a showgirl in Ken Murray's "Blackouts." That lasted a year and she turned to modeling. One day she got a call for an interview with a bunch of men, none over 23.

"They wanted me for a movie," she recalled. "I was afraid they were going up in the mountains to make some stag reels."

The assignment turned out to be an arty film made by the young amateurs. It was called "Fear and Desire" and Virginia didn't have a word in it. She was tied to a stake and required to recoil fearfully while the madened villain menaced her.

The picture never went very far, but caused enough notice to get her a four-page layout in Life Magazine. Twentieth Century-Fox saw it and caught up with her in New York, where she had gone for some TV. The result: a test and a contract.

Your School Report Card

By W. A. SMITH
(City School Superintendent)

Mrs. Child's fifth graders at Cherry Hill School have been making a study of the pictures in their classroom as a part of their art study.

In a paper written by Dorothy Whited entitled "Learning About Paintings", she says "Learning about pictures is fun and very interesting. Among other things, we have learned that Corot liked to paint landscapes, and Lawrence liked to do portraits."

The project started by the students learning the names of the pictures and the artists who painted them. This led to research in library and room reference books for the stories behind the pictures, and the lives of the painters.

The pupils are now able to identify all of the pictures in their room by name and artist. And if a visitor were to walk into the room, one of the students could tell him all around the room and tell him the story about each picture. In addition, they can recognize and tell the story about many of the other pictures in the building.

The pictures in their room include such old favorites as the following: "Pinkle" by Lawrence; "Blue Boy" by Gainsborough; "The Flower Girl of Holland" by Hitchcock; "The Indian Rug Weavers" by Ameek; "The Dance of the Nymphs" by Corot; "The Artist's Daughter" by Kalbac.

Other pictures which they can identify include: "Mona Lisa" by Da Vinci; "The Last Supper" by Da Vinci; "The Sistine Madonna" by Raphael; "Age of Innocence" by Reynolds; "Sir Galahad" by Watts; "Angel Heads" by Reynolds; "The Gleaners" and "The Angelus" by Millet; "The Horse Fair" by Bonheur; "Whistler's Mother" by Whistler; "Spring" by Corot.

FORD WINS IN ECONOMY TOO!

V-8 WINS CLASS A

In this year's Economy Run a new Ford V-8, with Fordomatic was the official victor over every car in its field, with a winning average of 47.7643 ton-miles per gallon. This means that the sturdier, heavier Ford carried more weight, with greater gas economy per pound, than any car in its field.

This latest Ford victory was scored over a rough and rigorous 1,468.8-mile route running from Los Angeles to Colorado Springs. The winning Ford threaded its way over the tough and twisting course averaging better than 40 mph. Through the heat of Death Valley and over the chilling height of an 11,000-foot mountain peak...through

The gas-eating stop-and-go of city traffic and over the straight-line open road...Ford proved anew its traditional reputation for economical performance.

The winning Ford was a regular-production model taken right from the assembly line and officially impounded until the starter's gun sounded. It was no different than thousands of '56 Fords you see on the road and in dealers' showrooms. This proves that Ford, the Performance, Style and Safety leader, leads in Economy, too! That adds up to four big reasons why the '56 Ford is worth more when you buy it, while you drive it, and when you sell it, too!

The "ton-mile" formula is used by contest officials to insure equal chance for all cars in each class regardless of size or weight. Ton-miles per gallon equals the car weight (including passengers) in tons, multiplied by the number of miles traveled, divided by number of gallons of gasoline consumed.

much as the one where a portly gentleman sits on a whisky barrel on a boat in the foreground of the seal.

In 1868 the Legislature took command of a bad situation in the deterioration of something as important and symbolic as a state seal. The result was the adoption of a seal with the sun, a range of mountains, a bundle of 17 arrows and a sheaf of wheat, symbolizing Brown points out, the fact that Ohio is the 17th state of the Union and the Alleghenies over which its pioneers made their way to Ohio, the first state west of these mountains to adopt statehood.

It is fitting that we annually call attention to the story of the Great Seal of Ohio, Secretary of State Brown states. "That's why we distribute the 'Ohio Capitals' booklets, giving a history of Ohio's seats of government and thousands of copies of a folder showing the seal, flag, state flower and the buckeye—all emblems of a great state—to school children. It is commendable that our school administrators are giving more emphasis to our rich Ohio history and the heritage in which we abide here in Ohio."

No Foreign Aid Politicking Seen

COLUMBUS (AP)—Carl Marcy, chief of staff of the Senate foreign relations committee, said yesterday that there was little likelihood of the foreign aid program becoming a campaign issue.

Marcy said there was bipartisan responsibility for the multi-billion dollar program and that he felt it was safe from political attack.

FORD WINS IN ECONOMY TOO!

V-8 WINS CLASS A

In this year's Economy Run a new Ford V-8, with Fordomatic was the official victor over every car in its field, with a winning average of 47.7643 ton-miles per gallon. This means that the sturdier, heavier Ford carried more weight, with greater gas economy per pound, than any car in its field.

This latest Ford victory was scored over a rough and rigorous 1,468-mile route running from Los Angeles to Colorado Springs. The winning Ford threaded its way over the tough and twisting course averaging better than 40 mph. Through the heat of Death Valley and over the chilling height of an 11,000-foot mountain peak...through the gas-eating stop-and-go of city traffic and over the straight-line open road...Ford proved anew its traditional reputation for economical performance.

The winning Ford was a regular-production model taken right from the assembly line and officially impounded until the starter's gun sounded. It was no different than thousands of '56 Fords you see on the road and in dealers' showrooms. This proves that Ford, the Performance, Style and Safety leader, leads in Economy, too! That adds up to four big reasons why the '56 Ford is worth more when you buy it, while you drive it, and when you sell it, too!

The "ton-mile" formula is used by contest officials to insure equal chance for all cars in each class regardless of size or weight. Ton-mile equals the car weight (including passengers) in tons, multiplied by the number of miles traveled, divided by number of gallons of gasoline consumed.

Ford-Montgomery Wedding Is Solemnized Saturday

At a beautiful afternoon wedding on Saturday, March 24, solemnized in the King Avenue Church in Columbus, Miss Laurel Jean Ford daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Ford of Upper Arlington, became the bride of Mr. Barton Montgomery, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Montgomery of the Snowhill Road.

Palms provided the background for arrangement of white gladioli and lilies and white tapers in seven branch candelabra, shed a soft light on the church altar.

The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. Revol Calkins as the hands of the clock approached three in the afternoon, and the bride given in marriage by her father, wore a white antique taffeta wedding gown, fashioned along princess lines, a halo in white to which her fingertip veil was attached and she carried a colonial bouquet of white Amarillis, orchid lilies and freesias.

Mrs. Joan Barrere, Akron, served as matron of honor, and Phyllis Hassberger of Detroit, bridesmaid.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Philhower returned Sunday from a four weeks vacation spent in St. Petersburg and Dania, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cherry had as weekend guests, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Cherry of New York City, Mrs. W. S. Moss, Mrs. David Caton and daughter of Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goodson have returned from an eastern monitoring trip. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hooper and family in Baltimore, Maryland and Mr. and Mrs. James Logue and family in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, during the past week.

Pvt. and Mrs. Ray H. Jinks left Monday for Albuquerque, New Mexico, after spending the past three weeks with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Jinks, daughter Luberta and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crone. Pvt. Jinks is security guard at Sandia Base, which is an Atomic Energy Commission installation at Albuquerque. Pvt. Dean Mumfrey of Columbus, who is also a security guard at Sandia Base, accompanied him.

The usual reports were heard and approved and plans were made to bring guests to Sunday School on Easter.

A white elephant sale was held with Mrs. Raymond Stephens and Mr. Charles Sheridan, as auctioneers, which provided a pleasant hour and added a tidy sum to the treasury.

At the close of the meeting Mr. and Mrs. Arnold were assisted by their daughter, Patti, in the serving of refreshments.

To crisp slices of bread, bake them in a slow (300 degrees) oven for twenty minutes or longer. Half way through the baking time, turn the slices so they will brown evenly.

Wee Arcanum, Big Middies Crowned Kings

State Class A&B Championships Won To End Cage Season

CLEVELAND — Arcanum, with a gymnasium inadequate for home basketball games, and Middletown, with the greatest tournament record in Ohio's history, today proudly wear the state high school basketball championships.

Arcanum aimed accurately to annex the Class B title with a 72-71 victory over Columbus St. Mary's Saturday.

It was the first tournament appearance for the darkhorse from Darke County. But the fact that they played all their games away from home helped them in the close tournament battles.

"We rented different gyms, any one available in our area and as a result weren't bothered at all by strange floors," said Arcanum Coach Glenn Harter.

For the magnificent Middies, it was an old story of classy class A tournament glory with a new glittering star.

Jerry Lucas is only 15 years old and a sophomore at Middletown high. Yet his senior teammates willingly took a backset for his record-breaking performances of 53 points in the semi-final contest and 44 points in the 91-69 title triumph over Canton McKinley.

It was Middletown's sixth Class A crown. No other school has won so often. For McKinley it was the fifth time it has reached the finals without gaining the championship.

Lucas is all-Ohio center, told those able to crowd into the gym that "it's great to be on a team like this." Last year when he was still a junior high student, he said, he didn't think he even would be able to make the squad.

Arcanum finished the 1955-56 season with a 27-1 record while Middletown had a perfect 25-0 mark, the seventh team to win the title without a defeat in the 34 years of tournament play.

Lucas accumulated an amazing 719 points for Middletown. And he has two more years of competition.

Ron Puterbaugh, Arcanum co-captain, didn't match Jerry's point production, but he put through 31, including a free throw which broke a 69-69 tie and a last minute tip-in which was the winning bucket. Unranked Arcanum also took the semi-final by a single point, downing top rated Willshire 55-54.

Arcanum—that word, incidentally, means a mystery or a secret in the dictionary—took the last Class B title to be bestowed by the Ohio High School Athletic Assn. Next year the division for schools with enrollments under 150 boys will be tagged class A. The larger schools, now class A, will be called class double A.

Italian Ferrari Cops Grand Prix

SEBRING, Fla. — An Italian sports car's great response to canny sprint timing rocketed the Ferrari to a Grand Prix 12-hour endurance race win Saturday.

The Ferrari, manned by Juan Fangio of Argentina and Eugenio Castellotti of Italy, clawed past Mike Hawthorn's leading British Jaguar in the 11th hour. It hit the finish line with record mileage of 1,008.8—10 miles better than any log in the 60-car field. The old record was 946.4 miles.

Second place went to a Ferrari driven by Luigi Musso of Italy and Harry Schell of France.

An American team, Bob Sweiert, 1955 Indianapolis 500-mile race winner, and Jack Ensley, drove a Jaguar to third place.

Dickinson Wins Miami Beach Open

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Gardner Dickinson Jr., who surprised even himself by winning the Miami Beach Open, is further proof that brawn is not required in championship golf.

So thin he scarcely casts a shadow standing sideways to the sun, the young Panama City, Fla., pro weighs only "about 125" with a pocketful of change.

But his steady 69 in yesterday's final round edged out by one stroke two husky members of golf's younger set—Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., and Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio.

Big Tournaments All Over Now; Titles Claimed

NEW YORK — The NCAAs, NIT, AAU and armed forces champions have their title trophies in hand and all that remains in amateur basketball this season is the task of selecting the U. S. Olympic team that will compete in Melbourne next November.

The Olympic committee has set up a three-day, four-team round robin to decide the team members at Kansas City April 2-4. Under Olympic rules, the roster will be limited to 12 men—with the round-robin winner contributing at least five but no more than seven.

The other Olympic team members will be selected from the round-robin rosters.

The collegians are topped by All-American Bill Russell and K. C. Jones of San Francisco, which whopped Iowa 83-71 for its 55th straight victory and second consecutive NCAA title last weekend.

Dayton's runnerup NIT squad contributes seven-foot Bill Uhl and forward Jim Paxson to the Olympic trials.

Other members of the collegiate roster are Willie Naulls, UCLA; Hal Lear, Temple; Joe Holup, George Washington; Paul Judson, Illinois; Gary Bergen, Utah; Carl Cain, Iowa; Chuck Rollis, Cornell; Bob Burrow, Kentucky; Vic Molodet, North Carolina State; and Bill Reigel, McNeese State.

Coaches Seek 8-Team Final Tourney Setup

CLEVELAND — The Ohio High School Basketball Coaches Association has recommended that eight teams in each class instead of four make up the future state tournament field.

The coaches, at their annual session, urged the Ohio High School Athletic Association to divide the state into eight districts with one team from each district qualified for the championship tournament.

Currently the state is separated into six districts and only four teams compete in each of the Class A and Class B divisions.

Only Wes Santee and Ron DeJaney have bettered Wheeler's performance this season and only Santee and Gil Dodds have run faster miles in the 20-year history of the Banker's mile.

The coaches also recommended that teams appearing in the state tournament wear solid color uniforms and that the name of the competing schools be used on the scoreboards instead of being designated as "home team" and "visitors."

By a vote of 104 to 39, the coaches passed a recommendation that the defensive team be awarded both inside spots during free throws. The change will be submitted to the state board of control in an attempt to overcome the advantage now enjoyed by extremely tall players.

SWO Organizes With 7 Teams

Loop's Newest Team From Chillicothe

The Southwest Ohio (SWO) League got itself organized Sunday with a seven-team setup for the year.

In addition to the six teams expected to send representatives to the organizational meeting, held at the home of Good Hope Manager Tom Smalley, a newcomer to the league also sent a representative.

The new team slated to join the loop is from the Chillicothe Reformatory.

Other teams to be in the league this year are the Chillicothe Business Men's Club outfit, Bainbridge, the Wilmington team from Turner's Transfer Co., and the three Fayette County teams, Jeffersonville, Good Hope and Milledgeville.

The three teams from here are the only holdovers from last year's league.

According to SWO, there is a possibility that an eighth team may come into the lineup to fill up the schedule so that every team can play every week. (With an odd number of teams, of course, one team would draw a bye each week.)

Scheduling presents problems, Smalley admitted, since not every team in the league has its own private diamond. Both Chillicothe teams use the same diamond, for example, so scheduling must allow for that.

In spite of the difficulties the league officials expect to have a schedule drawn up in another week or two, Smalley said.

Meantime, any other semi-pro team that would like to join the loop is welcome, he said.

Lanky Iowan Wins Fast Banker's Mile

CHICAGO — Ted Wheeler, lanky Iowa senior, splashed into stardom Saturday when he captured the Banker's Mile in the Chicago Daily News Relays.

Wheeler, an Army veteran and Big Ten indoor mile champion, turned in the season's third best effort in 4:07.5 and the fourth fastest mile in Relays history.

Only Wes Santee and Ron DeJaney have bettered Wheeler's performance this season and only Santee and Gil Dodds have run faster miles in the 20-year history of the Banker's mile.

The coaches also recommended that teams appearing in the state tournament wear solid color uniforms and that the name of the competing schools be used on the scoreboards instead of being designated as "home team" and "visitors."

By a vote of 104 to 39, the coaches passed a recommendation that the defensive team be awarded both inside spots during free throws. The change will be submitted to the state board of control in an attempt to overcome the advantage now enjoyed by extremely tall players.

6 Cage Rules Changed By National Group

CHICAGO — The National Basketball Committee, rules making body for colleges and high schools, adopted six rules revisions here yesterday.

The committee voted to extend the 12-foot free throw lane to high schools in the 1957-58 season and approved proposals on five minor rule changes.

Among these was a rule used by the Western Conference this year where the defensive team assumes both positions under the basket on a free throw instead of the home-and-visiting team setup.

Players in the future will no longer be able to leap into the free throw lane until the ball hits the backboard or hoop. Previously a player could jump into the lane so long as his foot was not on the floor until the ball made contact.

Another revision was making the free throw line two inches instead of one, to make all court lines uniform and to make the boundaries of the three second rule easier to distinguish.

The committee also placed a restriction on the jump ball and no player may have his foot within the circle until the ball is tapped.

The final revision concerned activity under a team's basket. No offensive player in the future may reach above the hoop to guide an attempted shot by a teammate into the basket.

This rule is on the same order where a defensive player can not reach up and knock a ball out of the basket to give him first place in the all-events and a share in the first place spot in the doubles.

Stan Gifford, who shares the doubles lead with Lillard, rolled a 1,953 to take second place in the all-events.

High School Cage Champions Given Tumultuous Welcomes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tumultuous crowds Sunday welcomed home the winners of Ohio's high school basketball championships. And the Dayton University Flyers—despite losing to Louisville in the final round of the National Invitational Tournament — also came home to a roaring welcome. At Middletown, traffic jams developed around the railroad station as many hometown rooters tried to join in the motorcade that escorted the victorious Middies from the station to the school gymnasium.

The final revision concerned activity under a team's basket. No offensive player in the future may reach above the hoop to guide an attempted shot by a teammate into the basket.

This rule is on the same order where a defensive player can not reach up and knock a ball out of the basket

Wee Arcanum, Big Middies Crowned Kings

State Class A&B Championships Won To End Cage Season

CLEVELAND (AP) — Arcanum, with a gymnasium inadequate for home basketball games, and Middletown, with the greatest tournament record in Ohio's history, today proudly wear the titles of state high school basketball champions.

Arcanum aimed accurately to annex the Class B title with a 72-71 victory over Columbus St. Mary's Saturday.

It was the first tournament appearance for the darkhorse from Darke County. But the fact that they played all their games away from home helped them in the close tournament battles.

"We rented different gyms, any one available in our area and as a result weren't bothered at all by strange floors," said Arcanum Coach Glenn Harter.

For the magnificent Middies, it was an old story of classy class. A tournament glory with a new glittering star.

Jerry Lucas is only 15 years old and a sophomore at Middletown high. Yet his senior teammates willingly took a backset for his record-breaking performances of 53 points in the semi-final contest and 44 points in the 91-69 title triumph over Canton McKinley.

It was Middletown's sixth Class A crown. No other school has won so often. For McKinley it was the fifth time it had reached the finals without gaining the championship.

Lucas, all-Ohio center, told those to crowd into the gym that "it's great to be on a team like this." Last year when he was still a junior high student, he said, he didn't think he even would be able to make the squad.

Arcanum finished the 1955-56 season with a 27-1 record while Middletown had a perfect 25-0 mark, the seventh team to win the title without a defeat in the 34 years of tournament play.

Lucas accumulated an amazing 719 points for Middletown. And he has two more years of competition.

Ron Puterbaugh, Arcanum co-captain, didn't match Jerry's point production, but he put through 31, including a free throw which broke a 69-69 tie and a last minute tip-in which was the winning bucket. Unranked Arcanum also took the semi-final by a single point, downing top rated Willsire 55-54.

Arcanum—that word, incidentally, means a mystery or a secret in the dictionary—took the last Class B title to be bestowed by the Ohio High School Athletic Assn. Next year the division for schools with enrollments under 150 boys will be tagged class A. The larger schools, now class A, will be called class double A.

Italian Ferrari Cops Grand Prix

SEBRING, Fla. (AP)—An Italian sports car's great response to canary sprint timing rocketed the Ferrari to a Grand Prix 12-hour endurance race win Saturday.

The Ferrari, manned by Juan Fangio of Argentina and Eugenio Castellotti of Italy, clawed past Mike Hawthorn's leading British Jaguar in the 11th hour. It hit the finish line with record mileage of 1,008.8—10 miles better than any log in the 60-car field. The old record was 946.4 miles.

Second place went to a Ferrari driven by Luigi Musso of Italy and Harry Schell of France.

An American team, Bob Sweiert, 1955 Indianapolis 500-mile race winner, and Jack Ensley, drove a Jaguar to third place.

Dickinson Wins Miami Beach Open

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Gardner Dickinson Jr., who surprised even himself by winning the Miami Beach Open, is further proof that brawn is not required in championship golf.

So thin he scarcely casts a shadow standing sideways to the sun, the young Panama City, Fla., pro weighs only "about 125" with a pocketful of change.

But his steady 69 in yesterday's final round edged out by one stroke two husky members of golf's younger set—Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., and Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio.

Big Tournaments All Over Now; Titles Claimed

SWO Organizes With 7 Teams Loop's Newest Team From Chillicothe

NEW YORK (AP)—The NCAA, NIT, AAU and armed forces champions have their title trophies in hand and all that remains in amateur basketball this season is the task of selecting the U. S. Olympic team that will compete in Melbourne next November.

The Olympic committee has set up a three-day, four-team round robin to decide the team members at Kansas City April 24. Under Olympic rules, the roster will be limited to 12 men—with the round-robin winner contributing at least five but no more than seven.

The other Olympic team members will be selected from the round-robin rosters.

The collegians are topped by All-American Bill Russell and K. C. Jones of San Francisco, which whipped Iowa 83-71 for its 55th straight victory and second consecutive NCAA title last weekend.

Dayton's runnerup NIT squad contributes seven-foot Bill Uhl and forward Jim Paxson to the Olympic trials.

Other members of the collegiate roster are Willie Naulls, UCLA; Hal Lear, Temple; Joe Holup, George Washington; Paul Judson, Illinois; Gary Bergen, Utah; Carl Cain, Iowa; Chuck Rollins, Cornell; Bob Burrow, Kentucky; Vic Molder, North Carolina State; and Bill Reigel, McNeese State.

Coaches Seek 8-Team Final Turney Setup

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Ohio High School Basketball Coaches Association has recommended that eight teams in each class instead of four make up the future state tournament field.

The coaches, at their annual session, urged the Ohio High School Athletic Association to divide the state into eight districts with one team from each district qualified for the championship tourney.

Currently the state is separated into six districts and only four teams compete in each of the Class A and Class B divisions.

It was also suggested that if the state board rejects the eight-district plan, two qualifiers from each regional tournament be sent to the state meet to make up the eighth team field.

The coaches also recommended that teams appearing in the state tournament wear solid color uniforms and that the name of the competing schools be used on the scoreboards instead of being designated as "home team" and "visitors."

By a vote of 104 to 39, the coaches passed a recommendation that the defensive team be awarded both inside spots during free throws. The change will be submitted to the state board of control in an attempt to overcome the advantage now enjoyed by extremely tall players.

CHICAGO (AP)—Ted Wheeler, lanky Iowa senior, splashed into stardom Saturday when he captured the Bankers' Mile in the Chicago Daily News Relays.

Wheeler, an Army veteran and Big Ten indoor mile champion, turned in the season's third best effort in 4:07.5 and the fourth fastest mile in Relays history.

Only Wes Santee and Ron Delaney have bettered Wheeler's performance this season and only Santee and Gil Dodds have run faster miles in the 20-year history of the Banker's mile.

6 Cage Rules Changed By National Group

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Basketball Committee, rules making body for colleges and high schools, adopted six rules revisions here yesterday.

The proposed plan seems to hold real promise for active sportsmen's clubs wishing to carry on a genuine conservation effort. Preliminary plans are now being drawn to meet Division of Wildlife standards which will still enable clubs, so desiring, to take part in this action program.

According to the proposal now being readied, six week old ring-neck pheasants, too young to be released in the wild, would be given to sportsmen's organizations qualified to receive them. Organizations must build their own holding pens and feed and care for the birds while in captivity.

Scheduling presents problems, Smalley admitted, since not every team in the league has its own private diamond. Both Chillicothe teams use the same diamond, for example, so scheduling must allow for that.

In spite of the difficulties the league officials expect to have a schedule drawn up in another week or two, Smalley said.

Meantime, any other semi-pro team that would like to join the loop is welcome, he said.

The committee also placed a restriction on the jump ball and no player may have his foot within the circle until the ball is tapped.

The final revision concerned activity under a team's basket. No offensive player in the future may reach above the hoop to guide an attempted shot by a teammate into the basket.

This rule is on the same order where a defensive player can not reach up and knock a ball out of the basket to give him first place in the all-events and a share in the first place spot in the doubles.

Stan Gifford, who shares the doubles lead with Lillard, rolled a 1,953 to take second place in the all-events.

Iranian Teacher Addresses DKG

New Officers Chosen At Joint Meet Here

Miss Hermine T. Mekertichian, was the speaker at the luncheon meeting members of two Delta Kappa Gamma chapters held here Saturday to mark the chapters' seventeenth birthdays.

The luncheon, held at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, attracted 40 members of the Alpha Delta Chapter of Washington C. H. and the Alpha Gamma Chapter of Chillicothe.

A feature of the session was the election of new officers, who will take over leadership of the Alpha Delta Chapter for the next two years.

Mrs. Amelia Pensyl Child was chosen as president by the three-member nominating committee. Other new officers are Miss Ruth Stecher, first vice president; Mrs. Martha Trace, second vice president; Mrs. Mary Gillespie, recording secretary; Mrs. Jane Grillot corresponding secretary; Miss Jane Trent, treasurer; and Miss Kathleen Davis, parliamentarian.

Members of the nominating committee were Dr. Ruth Teeters, Mrs. Lucille Davis and Miss Priscilla White.

Miss Mekertichian outlined the differences between the school system in Iran and that of the U. S.

PATTERED AFTER the French system, Iranian schools issue certificates at the sixth, 11th and 12th grade levels. Students must pass examinations at each level to secure the certificates and move up to the next level.

The educational program is set up by the minister of education, who also supervises teachers' training and pays their salaries.

English and French are the required foreign languages, with English the most popular now. Arabic is also required so that students may read the Koran, sacred book of Mohammedan religion.

Schools are open six days a week, including Saturdays and Sundays. Friday is the weekly holiday. Right now, Miss Mekertichian said, the Iranian schools are closed for the 15-day New Year vacation, which starts March 21.

Miss Mekertichian is currently studying at Ohio State University, under a DKG scholarship.

"I am having a very interesting and busy life learning new things every day," she said at the close of her talk. "I am grateful to the United States and to all the members of Delta Kappa Gamma in Ohio who have been so kind to give me such a grand opportunity."

She was introduced by Mrs. Amelia Child, program chairman for the meeting.

Miss Gladys Nelson president of the Alpha Delta Chapter here, welcomed the members to the luncheon and introduced Miss Bertha Ayer, president of the Alpha Gamma Chapter in Chillicothe.

Miss Nelson asked the members to stand for a short period of silence in memory of the late Miss Edith Gardner, who was a member of the Washington C. H. chapter of DKG.

THE PROGRAM opened with the singing of "Sylvia" and "To a Wild Rose" by the ensemble of the Alpha Delta Chapter. Members are Mrs. Amelia Child, Miss Kathleen Davis, Mrs. Dorothy Everhart, Mrs. Mary Gillespie, Mrs. Dorothy Stanforth, Dr. Ruth Teeters, Mrs. Martha Trace and Miss Jane Trent. Miss Margaret Gibson was the accompanist.

At the close of the session, each chapter held a short business meeting.

In addition to announcement of the new officers, the Alpha Delta session included announcement of an invitation from the Beta Rho Chapter in Circleville to attend a luncheon meeting on April 21.

Mrs. Child, the new president, was also selected to represent the chapter at the State convention to be held in Canton April 13-15. The chapter will make a "greenback corsage" for Mrs. Child to wear to the convention, members decided.

The traditional corsage is made up of money to be donated to the DKG overseas scholarship fund which is financing Miss Mekertichian's studies in the U. S.

Mrs. Wilson Dies In Bloomingburg

Mrs. Marjorie E. Wilson, 92,

died Saturday at her home on Market Street in Bloomingburg after four years of failing health. She had been seriously ill for the last three months.

She was a native and lifelong resident of Fayette County and was a member of the Bloomingburg Methodist Church.

Her husband, Henry Wilson, died in 1924, but she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Orlen Clark, and a son, Glenn Wilson, both of Bloomingburg, six grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren. She also leaves a sister, Mrs. Mary F. Atwell, of Washington C. H.

Rev. Herbert Ricketts is to conduct the funeral services at 2 P. M. Tuesday in the Bloomingburg Methodist Church.

Burial is to be in the Bloomingburg Cemetery under the direction of the Gerstner Funeral Home.

Friends may call any time at the Wilson residence.

Final Tribute Paid Mrs. Flora Payton

Funeral services were conducted for Mrs. Flora C. Payton at 2 P. M. Saturday at the House of Prayer on Washington Avenue by Roscoe Jones, pastor of the Coshocton Lighthouse in Greenfield.

The pastor offered prayer, read from the Bible, delivered the funeral sermon and read a memoir. The hymn, "Beyond the Sun Set," was sung by a trio made up of Mrs. Virginia Blair, Mrs. Louise Merritt and Mrs. Lou Leeth, two other hymns, "Face to Face" and "Good Night and Good Morning," were sung by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Beard. The piano accompaniment was played by Mrs. Mary Beard.

Pallbearers for the interment in the Frankfort Cemetery were Harry Payton, Carl Heskett, Herman Payton, Jr., Alva Heskett, Robert McCabe and Harold Bonhardt.

Chauncey Wright Dies In Dayton

Funeral services for Chauncey Wright, 52, of 138 Brooklyn Avenue, Dayton, who died Thursday, were held Monday afternoon at the Hoyne Funeral Home in Dayton, with Rev. Jayes B. Myers in charge. Interment in Woodland Cemetery.

Mr. Wright died at 8 P. M. Thursday in Good Samaritan Hospital, Dayton. He was a native of Greenfield but had lived in Dayton for 25 years. He was a painter and contractor. He was a member of the Gettysburg Church.

Surviving are his widow, Lola Wright; five daughters and a son; Shirley Ann, Joan, Patsy and Mary Wright of Dayton; Lucile Nichols, Washington C. H.; Harley Edward Wright of Dayton; four brothers, Eugene, Charles, and Edward, of Washington C. H.; Richard, Dayton, his father; Harley Wright, Washington C. H., and two sisters, Mrs. Gwendolyn Mastin, Bethel, and Mrs. Louise Sommers, Greenfield.

WHS Youth Is Given Master At Arms Rank

Donald L. Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell F. Elliott of 834 East Paint Street, has been appointed master-at-arms of his recruitment company at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center.

As a recruit petty officer he will wear a miniature rating insignia as a badge of authority during the remainder of his nine weeks of "Boot Camp."

He was chosen for the position in recognition of leadership qualities displayed while undergoing recruit training. He is scheduled to graduate March 31.

Holy Week Services At St. Colman's Church

Holy Week services for St. Colman's Catholic Church have been set by the pastor, Father Richard J. Connolly.

Confession will be Wednesday at 5 P. M., 6 P. M. and 7 P. M.

On Holy Thursday, evening mass is to begin at 5:30 o'clock followed by a procession of the Blessed Sacrament. For those receiving Holy Communion a three-hour fast from food is required, one hour from liquids. Confessions were set for 4 P. M. Blessed Sacrament will be in the Repository after Mass until 9 P. M.

On Good Friday, Blessed Sacrament will be in the repository all day beginning at 10 A. M. with evening services to begin at 5:30 P. M. Veneration of Cross will be from 12 to 3 P. M. with confessions at 4 P. M.

The Liturgy of Good Friday consists of adoration of the Cross, readings from the Old and New Testament, the prayer services which direct to God solemn petitions of the faithful and the Communion Service in which both priest and people share in the fruits of the Redemption.

Holy Saturday services begin at 8 P. M. including the Blessing of Baptism, Paschal Candle, Holy Water and New Fire Mass will begin immediately thereafter. Meat is permitted once at the principal meal. Lent ends at midnight. Confessions will be held at 5 and 6 P. M.

Easter Sunday masses are set for 7:30 and 11 A. M.

IN NOVEMBER OF 1955 the Sacred Congregation of Rites issued a decree which provided for the restoration of the order of services of Holy Week.

The changes were made for the benefit of the people, "to help the people re-live the sacred events of the closing days of Christ's life," Father Connolly said.

For centuries the Holy Week services were held in the morning but "with the issuance of the new decree the time was changed to permit the greatest number of people to attend, resulting in the evening hours," he said.

"These Holy Week services have such dignity, sacramental force and power for nourishing Christian life that they had to be restored

Services Held For Mrs. Mary Cussins

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Cussins were held at 2 P. M. Saturday in the Pee Pee Baptist Church near Nipigen in Ross County.

Rev. Regens Parker read from the Scriptures, offered prayer, delivered a sermon and read an obituary prepared by Mrs. Bertie Caliman.

The church choir sang the hymns "Near the Cross," "God Will Take Care of You," "Jesus, Oh How Sweet the Name" and "Jesus Is All the World to Me."

The pallbearers, who cared for the flowers, were Clarence Caliman, Alonzo Sanders, Arthur Ryan, Wesley Swaim, James Rose and Charles Walker.

Burial was in the Pee Pee Cemetery.

Store Burglarized But Little Is Taken

The Theobald general store on the Leesburg Road a mile north of Buena Vista was burglarized Sunday night, but very little was stolen.

Two packages of cigarettes and a few candy bars was all that was missed. The cash register, which contained a few pennies, was not molested.

Entrance was gained by breaking the glass from a side door. Sheriff Orland Hays investigated and came up with a perfect set of fingerprints the burglars had left on glass removed from the door.

City Teachers Plan Meeting

An open meeting, to which parents of school children especially and friends are being invited, is to be held Wednesday evening in the Little Theater of Washington C. H. High School.

The meeting, sponsored by the Washington C. H. Teachers Association, is to start at 8 o'clock.

The doors to the meeting are being opened because the subject to be discussed is of such general importance.

Besides, the talk around which the discussion is to center is to be given by a former Washington C. H. women, Miss Marjorie Sparks, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sparks.

Miss Sparks, the investigator and supervisor of women for the Adult Probation Department of the Common Pleas Court of Hamilton County (Cincinnati), said the subject of her talk would be "Theirs Is Your Life."

Mrs. Dorothy Everhart is the program chairman and Mrs. Olive Woodard is the president of the association.

Linda Hidy, club secretary, called.

Danford Hagan Singing In Ohio Wesleyan Choir

Danford Hagan of 916 Dayton Avenue is one of 80 Ohio Wesleyan University students taking part in two spring tours of the university A Cappella Choir, March 25 to 28 and May 4 to 8.

Iranian Teacher Addresses DKG

New Officers Chosen At Joint Meet Here

Miss Hermine T. Mekertichian, who teaches English in Iran, was the speaker at the luncheon meeting members of two Delta Kappa Gamma chapters held here Saturday to mark the chapters' seventeenth birthdays.

The luncheon, held at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, attracted 40 members of the Alpha Delta Chapter of Washington C. H. and the Alpha Gamma Chapter of Chillicothe.

A feature of the session was the election of new officers, who will take over leadership of the Alpha Delta Chapter for the next two years.

Mrs. Amelia Pensyl Child was chosen as president by the three-member nominating committee. Other new officers are Miss Ruth Stecher, first vice president; Mrs. Martha Trace, second vice president; Mrs. Mary Gillespie, recording secretary; Mrs. Jane Grillot corresponding secretary; Miss Jane Trent, treasurer; and Miss Kathleen Davis, parliamentarian.

Members of the nominating committee were Dr. Ruth Teeters, Mrs. Lucille Davis and Miss Priscilla White.

Miss Mekertichian outlined the differences between the school system in Iran and that of the U. S.

PATTERED AFTER the French system, Iranian schools issue certificates at the sixth, 11th and 12th grade levels. Students must pass examinations at each level to secure the certificates and move up to the next level.

The educational program is set up by the minister of education, who also supervises teachers' training and pays their salaries.

English and French are the required foreign languages, with English the most popular now. Arabic is also required so that students may read the Koran, sacred book of Mohammedan religion.

Schools are open six days a week, including Saturdays and Sundays. Friday is the weekly holiday. Right now, Miss Mekertichian said, the Iranian schools are closed for the 15-day New Year vacation, which starts March 21.

Miss Mekertichian is currently studying at Ohio State University, under a DKG scholarship.

"I am having a very interesting and busy life learning new things every day," she said at the close of her talk. "I am grateful to the United States and to all the members of Delta Kappa Gamma in Ohio who have been so kind to give me such a grand opportunity."

She was introduced by Mrs. Amelia Child, program chairman for the meeting.

Miss Gladys Nelson president of the Alpha Delta Chapter here, welcomed the members to the luncheon and introduced Miss Bertha Ayer, president of the Alpha Gamma Chapter in Chillicothe.

Miss Nelson asked the members to stand for a short period of silence in memory of the late Miss Edith Gardner, who was a member of the Washington C. H. chapter of DKG.

THE PROGRAM opened with the singing of "Sylvia" and "To a Wild Rose" by the ensemble of the Alpha Delta Chapter. Members are Mrs. Amelia Child, Miss Kathleen Davis, Mrs. Dorothy Everhart, Mrs. Mary Gillespie, Mrs. Dorothy Stanforth, Dr. Ruth Teeters, Mrs. Martha Trace and Miss Jane Trent. Miss Margaret Gibson was the accompanist.

At the close of the session, each chapter held a short business meeting.

In addition to announcement of the new officers, the Alpha Delta session included announcement of an invitation from the Beta Rho Chapter in Circleville to attend a luncheon meeting on April 21.

Mrs. Child, the new president, was also selected to represent the chapter at the State convention to be held in Canton April 13-15. The chapter will make a "greenback corsage" for Mrs. Child to wear to the convention, members decided.

The traditional corsage is made up of money to be donated to the DKG overseas scholarship fund which is financing Miss Mekertichian's studies in the U. S.

Chaffin PTO Plans Treat, School Gift

A contribution was made to the Red Cross and plans were made for an Easter treat for the youngsters and new playground equipment at the Chaffin School when the Chaffin Parent-Teacher Organization met at the Chaffin School.

A pre-school clinic will be held at the school some time in April.

Each teacher in the school will pick a room mother to help with the Easter treat.

Mrs. Burke Kearney opened the meeting with prayer. Mrs. J. O. White gave the secretary's report before a nominating committee was appointed to select candidates for officers next year.

David Carr is chairman of the nominating committee, which includes Harry Campbell and Robert H. Haines. Gail W. Mershon is chairman of the committee named to purchase playground equipment. Members include Jim Wilson, Harry Campbell, Ned Abbott, Ross Athey and Joe White.

As part of the program for the evening Bud Long and Kenneth Yahn played guitar for the group. Long sang and played "Satisfied Mind," "Wild Side of Life" and "Mansion over the Hilltop". Yahn sang and played "If You Were Me", "Wildwood Flower" and "Why, Baby, Why".

Bob Haines performed with a "trick" horse, with Gail Mershon and Sam Athey in the role of the horse.

Cookies and coffee were served after the meeting by Robert H. Haines, chairman of the refreshment committee for the evening and Joe White, Gail Mershon, Sam Athey, Bob Haines and Arch McCullough.

Holy Week Services At St. Colman's Church

Holy Week services for St. Colman's Catholic Church have been set by the pastor, Father Richard J. Connelly.

Confession will be Wednesday at 5 P. M., 6 P. M. and 7 P. M.

On Holy Thursday, evening mass is to begin at 5:30 o'clock followed by a procession of the Blessed Sacrament. For those receiving Holy Communion a three-hour fast from food is required, one hour from liquids. Confessions were set for 4 P. M. Blessed Sacrament will be in the Repository after Mass until 9 P. M.

On Good Friday, Blessed Sacrament will be in the repository all day beginning at 10 A. M. with evening services to begin at 5:30 P. M. Veneration of Cross will be from 12 to 3 P. M. with confessions at 4 P. M.

The Liturgy of Good Friday consists of adoration of the Cross, readings from the Old and New Testament, the prayer services which direct to God solemn petitions of the faithful and the Communion Service in which both priest and people share in the fruits of the Redemption.

Holy Saturday begins as a day of intense sorrow on the death of the Saviour. The day ends with the service of the Easter vigil. The various blessings occur at this Mass.

Easter Sunday masses are set for 7:30 and 11 A. M.

IN NOVEMBER of 1955 the Sacred Congregation of Rites issued a decree which provided for the restoration of the order of services of Holy Week.

The changes were made for the benefit of the people, "to help the people re-live the sacred events of the closing days of Christ's life," Father Connelly said.

These Holy Week services have such dignity, sacramental force and power for nourishing Christian life that they had to be restored.

Funeral services for John A. Hoppes, 87, who died Saturday morning at his home near London, will be held at 2 P. M. Tuesday at the Snyder Funeral Home in Mt. Sterling.

A retired farmer, Mr. Hoppes was a longtime resident of Fayette County.

He is survived by three sons,

Neal of near London, Orval of Crystal Lake and John M. of California; and a sister, Mrs. Minnie Cook of Washington C. H.

Burial will be in the Madison Mills Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home at any time.
